Subject: Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Park - Sinkhole

Attachments:

Good afternoon Madam Manager,

Please be advised, a relatively small sink hole in the open space adjacent to one of the walkways that lead to the memorial from the parking lot near Shelter B has been identified. After further inquiry, staff has determined the cause to be a rather large steel tank buried underground.

BACKGROUND:

MLK, Jr. park was constructed in the late 1990's. The park was the site of an old waste water treatment plant and many of the structures of the plant were left and buried underground. From the original sinkhole it appeared to be a metal structure of some kind. Upon digging to get a better look, it appears to be a rather large steel tank of some sort. A hole approximately 30' in diameter and 3'-6' deep revealed a tank but does not suggest what type. It has no odor that would be associated with wastewater or petroleum. Holes made in the digging reveals that the tank is empty other than having a small amount of water in the bottom. This suggests that it may have been a water tank.

RESOLVE/NEXT STEPS:

Brad Kerr was called out to the site and he is investigating what the structure may be and how best to approach the issue. The area is being fenced off to keep the public out of the area.

Please advise if you would like to advise Council. Thank you and I'll keep you posted.

FYI, we lost a Gas Division employee to Piedmont Natural Gas (PNG). PNG is paying 40% more than we are for a comparable position ($24.00 vs $17.21/hr.)

PNG's regional operations center is in Tarboro. They have 4 construction crews (as we do.) Only two are staffed. We may be losing more employees to PNG.

I hope our Compensation Study will be completed soon or we will loss more employees. Can we ask them to expedite the electric and gas utilities analysis?

Steven informed me this morning that he was offered a job at Piedmont Natural Gas as an Equipment Operator, which he accepted. They offered him $24.00/hr. He is currently at $17.21/hr as a Gas Worker II.

I discussed the obvious things with him: retirement, job security, opportunity for advancement and my thoughts on his career trajectory. To be honest, Steven is the type that puts a lot of thought into his decisions, so he had already considered these things. I'm disappointed to see him go, because I see him as an obvious choice for supervisor in the future. I let him know to keep us in mind should he get there and not like it.

On a related note, Piedmont has a few more positions to fill, so this may not be the last situation we have like this. Also, Wilson's recent pay study has allowed them to pull an employee from both PNG and GUC in the last few months.

Just keeping you in the loop.

Per the e-mail that I just sent to you, I did reach back out to Lindell when I first received that e-mail as I wasn't sure now would be the best time to do a story on the monument considering council has not seen the results yet. The response I received was one full of sarcasm. Feel free to see his response and mine below. Based on his response and Amelia's concern at the focus groups, maybe now is a good time to have an editorial board meeting with the Telegram and even speak with them about our communications procedures, etc. I see our relationship going back to what it was about a year ago. I thought progress was being made, but there is still animosity there. Let me know your thoughts.

Lindell, first of all, I have a job to do just like you. If those are all of your questions on the Monument, I am sure they can be answered. However, if you want to dig into the "meat and potatoes" of the results; first, I am not sure if they are ready yet; however, I can check on this. Also, how would you feel if you were council and the first time you hear about the results of a report; parking or something of that significance, it is in the newspaper? Please note that Rochelle is at a conference through Friday. However, I will send these questions to her and try to get them by your deadline.

In regards to the flood vehicle, if you recall, you wanted pictures and the vehicle was not ready. What could I do about that? The vehicle is ready now; it seems you are searching for story ideas, so that was one.

In terms of ticket prices for the Globetrotters, the best contact would be Marcus at the Event Center. If you have a problem reaching him, let me know.

Look, I am not trying to prevent you from getting good stories. However, there seems to be some new animosity building between the Telegram and the city. If you ever have a question, don't seem to like how things are going, etc., just call me and talk to me about it. As far as I know, I have always provided you with the information that I could and have been forthcoming. I have always met your deadlines and have not prevented you from speaking with anyone. You have just been asked to come through our office, which is the standard with every other city or organization I have dealt with in the past.

I have been on both sides, a reporter and now on this side. I understand you have deadlines to meet and I will work with you. However, I need you to work with me too, and the sarcasm presented in your e-mail is not how our relationship will prosper.

Thanks. Any other concerns?

Nope. We aren't going to play "wait for the council" on every story.

The questions I asked can be answered without the report being shared with council.

In fact, the parking lot story can be written without waiting on the 3 p.m. Monday info.

I was being patient and easygoing, but it looks like that isn't working.

I asked and asked about that flood vehicle and was put off forever. I don't think I'll ever write about it. Send a press release and a photo and maybe it will run in the community section.

Since we have to wait on the parking and the monument stories, I've got another idea.

I was looking at ticket prices for the Globetrotters and see that the $16 price at the Event Center is a great deal since the tickets are on sale everywhere else for $45 or $55.

Are the tickets being subsidized by the city or some other agency or organization?

If so, why?

If not, why are the tickets so cheap?

Thanks,

Lindell

Tameka,

Since my parking story is on hold until after Monday, I thought of something else.

I'm sure you've seen the news that Silent Sam was torn down in Chapel Hill. Since that statue has been mentioned in relation to the Confederate Monument in Rocky Mount, I thought it would be a good time for an update.

What was the result of the meetings held on the monument? When will a report be issued to the council?

For Rochelle Small-Toney: Was the meetings worth it? (How much did the consultants cost?) Will the city use this method for other situations?

For Mayor Combs: What is your opinion on how the situation here has been handled compared to Chapel Hill?

I would like answers by Thursday afternoon if at all possible. Thanks!

Sure.

The funds that are to returned are not related to this NSP project but are related to our Urgent Repair program.

The rental funds and records are to be audited by either our auditor or another auditing firm. This will help straighten out the mess.
